Bologna's most famous for its portocolos (portici). There are miles and miles of these. On weekend and holiday afternoons the main shopping areas are full of strollers. Other places the portici are empty

Another famous feature of Bologna -- the two towers -- i due torri
One is very crooked, it had to be chopped in half for fear it would fall on someone - some few hundred years ago. In the 1200s and 1300s there were dozens of these in Bologna and other Italian cities
